VLSystems Named Cisco's Orange County Security Partner of the Year

IRVINE, CA—SEPT. 17, 2007—VLSystems, Inc. announced today they were named Cisco's Orange County Security Partner of the Year for fiscal year 2007. The honor was awarded by the Cisco Orange County Commercial Team at Cisco's Partner Appreciation event the last week in August.

"We feel very honored to receive this award," said Tom White, CEO of VLSystems. "By close partnering with the local Cisco team, VLSystems is able to remain at the forefront of security by providing our customers with networking solutions that keep their data secure and accessible."

VLSystems was also named the 2007 Top Commercial Security Partner for the Western region at the Cisco Partner Summit in April 2007.
